Who we are

Truly Preserved is an affiliate review site for freeze-dried food and emergency preparedness, launched in October 2026. We publish comparison guides and free tools — 8 posts a week (2 each Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday, and Sunday), with 10 published posts so far and more added every week.

Audience: US readers — preparedness households stocking food, water, and backup power for their families.

Traffic, honestly: We're new (launched October 2026) and growing — early traffic is small and organic. We'll share current numbers on request.

How we review — the research-desk model

- Built from published specifications, current prices, and aggregated verified owner feedback — never fake hands-on claims.
- Scores come from a published rubric. Commissions never change a score.
- No paid placements, ever.

What we offer partners

- Product coverage consideration for relevant guides — never guaranteed, never paid.
- Photo and asset use with credit, with your permission.
- Direct-program links swapped in promptly, site-wide for your brand, on approval.
